WHY HIRE a Bakersfield Personal Injury Lawyer?

By hiring a team of Bakersfield personal injury attorneys, you have the best chance of a successful outcome.

If you have recently been involved in an accident that left you with serious or permanent injuries, you have the right to hire a Bakersfield personal injury lawyer. Maybe you were crossing the street at a crosswalk and were hit by a car, or perhaps you were involved in a car crash caused by a drunk driver. Or maybe you were shopping at the grocery store and slipped on a spill that wasn't clean up in a timely manner. Whatever the case, a personal injury lawyer can represent you and get you the compensation you're entitled to.

The bottom line is, your injury was the result of someone else's negligence or malicious wrongdoing. By hiring a team of Bakersfield personal injury attorneys, you have the best chance of a successful outcome.

Accidents of all kinds happen in Bakersfield, from car accidents on Interstate 5 to the workplaces of the downtown area.

If you are a resident of the city of Bakersfield or were visiting Bakersfield at the time of your accident, it's in your best interest to hire a local attorney who lives in this same area and knows it well. Let's take a look at why you should hire a Bakersfield personal injury firm like Kuzyk Law.

Liability

Things can get pretty complicated and tricky fairly fast with any personal injury claim. You're unsure what the other party's available liability insurance coverage is, something the claims adjuster probably won't reveal. In many states, including California, you can't get this information without filing a lawsuit and formally requesting it. As a result of those findings, the insurance coverage may not be enough to pay for your injuries and losses.

It would make a lot of sense to hire a personal injury attorney to ensure fair resolution no matter the type of injury you have.

Injury Type

Your injuries could be of the nature typically questioned by insurance carriers. For example, car accident claims involving minimal vehicle damage and only soft tissue injuries tend to be hotly contested by insurance adjusters. With no evidence of broken bones or torn ligaments, a jury can be persuaded that the plaintiff is making up these issues just to get more money. In this case, it would make a lot of sense to hire a personal injury attorney to ensure fair resolution no matter the type of injury you have.

Complexity

Routine personal injury cases are hard enough to settle; add in a complex one such as a medical malpractice case, and it can be near impossible to do on your own. With medical malpractice, both the evidence and procedural processes can be convoluted, drawn out and fraught with many legal hoops that must be jumped through. Same goes for product liability cases, seat belt cases, burn cases, and any other type of case that requires expert opinion.

A Bakersfield personal injury lawyer that specializes in a particular field automatically knows which experts to turn to for the most targeted results.

Specifics

From trucking accidents to dog bites, there are many personal injury lawyers out there who specialize in this field. The key is to know which one has the expertise in your particular type of case so you can get the best settlement backed by the most extensive experience. A lawyer may operate under the umbrella of personal injury but hasn't handled a whole lot of traumatic brain injury (TBI) cases. Another lawyer in another firm may focus on those and therefore may be the best choice for your TBI case. If you're lucky, you'll find a Bakersfield personal injury law firm that has many lawyers experienced in many different areas.

A Bakersfield personal injury lawyer that specializes in a particular field automatically knows which experts to turn to for the most targeted results, from accident re-constructionists to medical doctors.
